Step 1

Choose a Medical Decision Maker

Your medical decision maker can make health care decisions for you if you are too sick to make them yourself.

1. Can you think of ANY family or friends who MAY be able to make medical decisions for you if you become too sick to make your own decisions?

Yes or maybe

Write down the person's name: _____

No

If you want, you can write why you chose this person or persons.

2. When do you want someone to make medical decisions for you?

I ONLY want someone to make medical decisions for me if I become too sick to make my own decisions.

I want someone else to make medical decisions for me now, EVEN when I can make my own decisions.

I am not sure.

If you want, you can write why you feel this way.

Step 2

Decide What Matters Most in Life

These 5 questions will help you decide what matters most in your life and for your medical care. Knowing what is most important in life can help you decide on the medical care that is right for you.

1. What is most important in your life?

Check as many as you want.

- Family or friends
- Religion
- Living on my own and caring for myself
- Not being a burden on my family
- Hobbies
- Pets
- Something else: _____

If you want, you can write why you feel this way.

2. What experience have you had with serious illness?

Questions to think about:

- Have you had your own experience with serious illness?
- Do you remember someone close to you who was very sick or dying?
- Do you remember seeing someone on TV who was very sick or dying?

Think about what went well, what did not go well, and why.
If you were in these situations, what would you want for yourself?

You may change your mind about how you feel over time.

If you want, you can write why you feel this way.

3. What matters most in life?

Quality of life differs for each person.

For some people, the main goal is to be kept alive as long as possible even if:

- They have to be kept alive on machines and are suffering
- They are too sick to talk to their family and friends

For other people, the main goal is to focus on quality of life and being comfortable.

- These people would prefer a natural death, and not be kept alive on machines

Other people are somewhere in between. What is important to you?
Your goals may differ today in your current health than at the end of life.

3A. TODAY, IN YOUR CURRENT HEALTH

Put an X along this line to show how you feel today, in your current health.

My main goal is to live as long as possible, no matter what.

Equally Important

My main goal is to focus on quality of life and being comfortable.

I am not sure

If you want, you can write why you feel this way.

3B. AT THE END OF LIFE

Put an X along this line to show how you would feel if you were so sick that you may die soon.

My main goal is to live as long as possible, no matter what.

Equally Important

My main goal is to focus on quality of life and being comfortable.

I am not sure

If you want, you can write why you feel this way.

3C. AT THE END OF LIFE, some people are willing to live through a lot for a chance of living longer. Other people know that certain things would be very hard on their quality of life.

At the end of life, which of these things would be very hard on your quality of life?

Check the things below that would make you want to focus on comfort rather than trying to live as long as possible.

- Being in a coma and not able to wake up or talk to my family and friends
- Not being able to live without being hooked up to machines
- Not being able to think for myself, such as dementia
- Not being able to feed, bathe, or take care of myself
- Not being able to live on my own
- Having constant, severe pain or discomfort
- Something else: _____
- OR, I am willing to live through all of these things for a chance of living longer.

If you want, you can write why you feel this way.

4. How do you balance quality of life with medical care?

Sometimes illness and the treatments used to try to help people live longer can cause pain, side effects, and the inability to care for yourself.

AT THE END OF LIFE, some people are willing to live through a lot for a chance of living longer. Other people know that certain things would be very hard on their quality of life.

Life support treatment can be CPR, a breathing machine, feeding tubes, dialysis, or transfusions.

If you were so sick that you may die soon, what would you prefer?

- Try all life support treatments that my doctors think might help. I want to stay on life support treatments even if there is little hope of getting better or living a life I value.
- Do a trial of life support treatments that my doctors think might help. But, I do not want to stay on life support treatments if the treatments do not work and there is little hope of getting better or living a life I value.
- I do not want life support treatments, and I want to focus on being comfortable. I prefer to have a natural death.
- I am not sure.

What else should your medical providers and medical decision maker know about this choice? Or why did you choose this option?

5. Have you changed your mind about what is important to you over time?

You may change your mind about how you feel over time. Make sure to tell your decision maker, family or friends, and doctor if you change your mind.

Step 3

Choose How Much Flexibility to Give Your Medical Decision Maker

Flexibility gives your decision maker leeway to work with your doctors and possibly change your prior medical decisions if something else is better for you at that time.

1. How much flexibility do you want to give your decision maker?

- TOTAL FLEXIBILITY: It is OK for my decision maker to change any of my medical decisions if the doctors think it is best for me at that time.
- SOME FLEXIBILITY: It is OK for my decision maker to change some of my medical decisions if the doctors think it is best. But, some decisions I NEVER want changed, even if the doctors recommend it.
- NO FLEXIBILITY: My decision maker must follow all of my medical wishes exactly, no matter what. It is NOT OK to change my decisions, even if the doctors recommend it.
- I am not sure.

If you want, you can write why you feel this way.

Step 4

Tell Others About Your Wishes

You may have other close family and friends in your life who are NOT your decision maker.

1. Do you have close family or friends that may have opinions about your medical care if you were to become sick?

These people may have strong opinions about your medical care. Their opinions may differ from what you or your decision maker want.

Yes or maybe

No

2. Who have you talked to about your wishes for medical care?

You can mark as many as you want, or no one yet.

My medical decision maker

My doctor

My family and friends

Someone else: _____

No one yet

Your Name: _____

Step 5

Ask Doctors the Right Questions

How do you prefer to make medical decisions?

1. How do you prefer to make medical decisions with your doctors and medical providers?

- I prefer to make all my medical decisions on my own.
- I prefer that my doctors and I share decision making equally.
- I prefer that my doctors make all medical decisions for me.

It is important to know that your doctors cannot make your decisions for you. They can only give you or your family or friends information to make decisions.

If you want, you can write why feel this way.

2. How do you prefer to make medical decisions with your close family and friends?

- I prefer to make all my medical decisions on my own.
- I prefer that my family or friends and I share decision making equally.
- I prefer that my family or friends make all medical decisions for me.

If you want, you can write why you feel this way.

3. If you had a serious illness, would you want your doctor to tell you how sick you are or how long you have to live?

- Yes, I would want to know this information.
- No, I would not want to know this information.
- I am not sure.

If you want, you can write why you feel this way.

Bonus questions:

Religion

1. What should your medical providers and medical decision maker know about your religious or spiritual beliefs?

Burial

2. What should your medical providers and decision maker know about how you want your body to be treated after you die, and your funeral or burial wishes?

Your Next Step

1. What next step will you take?

- Ask someone to be your medical decision maker
- Talk to your family and friends about your medical wishes
- Talk to medical providers about your medical wishes
- Put your wishes in writing on an advance directive

*Great Job!

Share this form and your choices with your family, friends, and medical providers.

If you also fill out the PREPARE easy-to-read advance directive, you can put this Question Guide right after page 10. This way, all the important information about your choices will be in your legal form. Make sure to fill out the questions on the advance directive too. Some of them may be similar.
