Part 1

Choose your medical decision maker

Your medical decision maker can make health care decisions for you if you are not able to make them yourself.

A good medical decision maker is a family member or friend who:

- is 18 years of age or older
- can talk to you about your wishes
- can be there for you when you need them
- you trust to follow your wishes and do what is best for you
- you trust to know your medical information
- is not afraid to ask doctors questions and speak up about your wishes

Your decision maker cannot be your doctor or someone who works at your hospital, clinic, or place where you live or get care, unless they are your spouse, legal guardian or next of kin.

What will happen if I do not choose a medical decision maker?

If you are not able to make your own decisions, your doctors will turn to a judge to make decisions for you. This person may not know what you want.

If you are not able, your medical decision maker can choose these things for you:

- doctors, nurses, social workers, caregivers
- hospitals, clinics, nursing homes
- medications, tests, or treatments
- who can look at your medical information

Here are more decisions your medical decision maker can make:

Start or stop life support or medical treatments, such as:

- CPR or cardiopulmonary resuscitation

cardio = heart • pulmonary = lungs • resuscitation = try to bring back

This may involve:

- pressing hard on your chest to try to keep your blood pumping
- electrical shocks to try to jump start your heart
- medicines in your veins

- Breathing machine or ventilator

The machine pumps air into your lungs and tries to breathe for you. You are not able to talk when you are on the machine.

- Dialysis

A machine that tries to clean your blood if your kidneys stop working.

- Feeding Tube

A tube used to try to feed you if you cannot swallow. The tube can be placed through your nose down into your throat and stomach. It can also be placed by surgery into your stomach.

- Blood and water transfusions (IV)

To put blood and water into your body.

- Surgery

- Medicines

End of life decisions your medical decision maker can make:

- call in a religious or spiritual leader
- decide if you die at home or in the hospital
- decide about autopsy or organ donation

Part 2

Make your own health care choices

What Matters Most in Life: Quality of life differs for each person.

For some people, the main goal is to be kept alive as long as possible even if:

- They have to be kept alive on machines and are suffering
- They are too sick to talk to their family and friends

For other people, the main goal is to focus on quality of life and being comfortable.

- These people would prefer a natural death, and not be kept alive on machines

Other people are somewhere in between. What is important to you?

Your goals may differ today in your current health than at the end of life.

TODAY, IN YOUR CURRENT HEALTH

Put an X along this line to show how you feel today, in your current health.

AT THE END OF LIFE

Put an X along this line to show how you would feel if you were so sick that you may die soon.

If you want to write down why you feel this way, go to Page 10.

What Matters Most in Life: Quality of life differs for each person. What is important to you?

AT THE END OF LIFE, some people are willing to live through a lot for a chance of living longer. Other people know that certain things would be very hard on their quality of life.

At the end of life, which of these things would be very hard on your quality of life?

Check the things below that would make you want to focus on comfort rather than trying to live as long as possible.

- Being in a coma and not able to wake up or talk to my family and friends
 - Not being able to live without being hooked up to machines
 - Not being able to think for myself, such as dementia
 - Not being able to feed, bathe, or take care of myself
 - Not being able to live on my own
 - Having constant, severe pain or discomfort
 - Something else _____
- OR, I am willing to live through all of these things for a chance of living longer.

Is religion or spirituality important to you? Yes No

If you have one, what is your religion? _____

What should your medical providers and medical decision maker know about your religious or spiritual beliefs?

If you are dying, where do you want to be?

- at home
- in the hospital
- either

If you want to write down more about why you feel this way, go to Page 10.

How Do You Balance Quality of Life with Medical Care?

Sometimes illness and the treatments used to try to help people live longer can cause pain, side effects, and the inability to care for yourself.

Please read this whole page before making a choice.

AT THE END OF LIFE, some people are willing to live through a lot for a chance of living longer. Other people know that certain things would be very hard on their quality of life.

Life support treatment can be CPR, a breathing machine, feeding tubes, dialysis, or transfusions.

Check the one choice you most agree with.

If you were so sick that you may die soon, what would you prefer?

- Try all life support treatments that my doctors think might help. I want to stay on life support treatments even if there is little hope of getting better or living a life I value.
- Do a trial of life support treatments that my doctors think might help. But, I DO NOT want to stay on life support treatments if the treatments do not work and there is little hope of getting better or living a life I value.
- I do not want life support treatments, and I want to focus on being comfortable. I prefer to have a natural death.

What else should your medical providers and decision maker know about this choice? Or, why did you choose this option?

If you want to write down more about why you feel this way, go to Page 10.

Your decision maker may be asked about organ donation and autopsy after you die. Please tell us your wishes.

ORGAN DONATION

Some people decide to donate their organs or body parts. What do you prefer?

- I want to donate my organs or body parts.

Which organ or body part do you want to donate?

- Any organ or body part
 Only _____

- I do not want to donate my organs or body parts.

What else should your medical providers and medical decision maker know about donating your organs or body parts?

AUTOPSY

An autopsy can be done after death to find out why someone died. It is done by surgery. It can take a few days.

- I want an autopsy.
 I do not want an autopsy.
 I only want an autopsy if there are questions about my death.

OPTIONAL: FUNERAL OR BURIAL WISHES

If you write down your funeral or burial wishes, a notary needs to sign on Page 13.

What should your medical providers and decision maker know about how you want your body to be treated after you die, and your funeral or burial wishes?
